PADLET

- What is a Padlet?
- What are the features of the Padlet?
- How is it useful in the Teaching Learning Process?
- How is it shared with the Students?
- How is it useful to Students?

CEO of Padlet

- Nitesh Goel is the CEO and co-founder of the application Padlet, along with his childhood friend Pranav Piyush, he developed Padlet.
- Padlet's initial roots began as one of Nitesh's final year research projects in 2008.
- Initially the site was named as 'Wallwisher'
- Over the years it has been developed as a creative and interactive tool that integrates pictures, videos, documents and weblink.

What is a Padlet?

- Padlet is the web application that allows users to post notes on a digital wall.
- It is an online virtual Bulletin board where students and teachers can collaborate, reflect, share links and pictures in a secure location.
- The Teachers can moderate posts, remove posts and manage the virtual board called Padlet.
- Collaboration happens in real-time, anyone can access it from anywhere as long as they have the link to the Padlet.

Padlet for Students

The screenshot shows the Padlet website in a browser. The browser's address bar displays 'padlet.com'. The website's navigation menu includes 'Home', 'Product', 'For School', 'For Business', and 'Help', with a 'Log in' button on the right. The main content area features a large headline: 'It's a beautiful day. Make something beautiful.' Below the headline is a pink button that says 'Sign up for free'. At the bottom, four different Padlet board styles are presented: 'Wall' (a red board with a collage of images and text), 'Shelf' (a blue board with a grid of images and text), 'Canvas' (a green board with a central image and surrounding text boxes), and 'Stream' (a purple board with a large image and text). The Windows taskbar is visible at the bottom of the screen, showing the search bar and various application icons.
