Blog..

www.edublog.org

A blog is an informational website published on the World Wide Web consisting of discrete, often informal diary-style text entries.

ब्लॉग वर्ल्ड वाइड वेब पर प्रकाशित एक सूचनात्मक वेबसाइट है जिसमें अलग-अलग, अक्सर अनौपचारिक डायरी-शैली की पाठ प्रविष्टियाँ शामिल होती हैं।

Blog..

www.edublog.org

A blog is a frequently updated web page used for personal commentary, business content or educational purpose.

ब्लॉग एक बार-बार अपडेट किया जाने वाला वेब पेज है जिसका उपयोग व्यक्तिगत टिप्पणी, व्यावसायिक सामग्री या शैक्षिक उद्देश्यों के लिए किया जाता है।

What is Edublogs..

Edublogs can be used as instructional resources, in which teachers can post tips, explanations or samples to help students learn. The use of blogs in the classroom allows both the teacher and student the ability to edit and add content at any time

एज्युब्लॉग का उपयोग निर्देशात्मक संसाधनों के रूप में किया जा सकता है, जिसमें शिक्षक छात्रों को सीखने में मदद करने के लिए युक्तियाँ, स्पष्टीकरण या नमूने पोस्ट कर सकते हैं। कक्षा में ब्लॉग का उपयोग शिक्षक और छात्र दोनों को किसी भी समय सामग्री को संपादित करने और जोड़ने की क्षमता प्रदान करता है

What is Edublogs..

Edublogs is a blogging platform on the web and as an app designed for educators and students. By itself, it's not a teaching or learning tool. Instead, Edublogs makes it possible for teachers to create classroom and student blogs that include text, video, images, and other media.

एजब्लॉग वेब पर एक ब्लॉगिंग प्लेटफॉर्म है और शिक्षकों और छात्रों के लिए डिज़ाइन किया गया एक ऐप है। अपने आप में, यह कोई शिक्षण या सीखने का उपकरण नहीं है। इसके बजाय, एडब्लॉग्स शिक्षकों के लिए कक्षा और छात्र ब्लॉग बनाना संभव बनाता है जिसमें टेक्स्ट, वीडियो, चित्र और अन्य मीडिया शामिल होते हैं।

Why edublogs..

Add New Site or Blog To Existing Account

You can add more than one site or blog to your Edublogs account which allows you to use a single account login to manage all your sites and blogs.

Once you have created more than one site you'll see your sites listed under your My Sites dropdown menu in your admin bar.

Log in to your Edublogs account (if you are not already logged in) and go to Dashboard > My Sites and click on Add New. This takes you to the sign up form where you'll see your current sites listed with an option to set up new site.

Hurricane Harvey And The Impact On Students, Teachers, and Schools

Hurricane Harvey and the ongoing flooding in Texas and Louisiana has hit close to home for several of us here at Edublogs. Our thoughts are with those still dealing with the aftermath of the storm and we feel deeply for the loss, pain, anxiety, and hardship the storm has caused.

If there is a bright side to it all, we are heartened by the acts of Dashboard- My Class.

This screenshot shows the Edmentum dashboard interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with 'My Sites' and 'Kunda's Teaching ideas' links, along with an 'Upgrade Blog' button and the user's name 'Howdy, kundabachhav28'. The main content area is titled 'Dashboard' and features a left-hand navigation menu. The 'My Class' option in this menu is highlighted with a purple bar, and a purple arrow points from this bar to the 'My Account' section on the right. The 'My Account' section displays the user's profile information: Username (kundabachhav28), Display (kundabachhav28), Email (shindekalash712@gmail.com), and # Of Sites (4). Below this, there is a 'Quick Draft' section with input fields for 'Title' and 'Content', and a 'Save Draft' button. Other visible elements include a storage usage indicator (0.00% used of 1000.00MB total) and an 'Activity' section listing recent posts.

Post vs Pages

1. Page Title – tells the reader what the page is about.
2. Your page content – this is information you want to share on this page
3. Comments – most themes support comments at the bottom of the page. Comments are disabled on pages by default and can be enabled.

2. Page Content

This is an example of a page. Unlike posts, which are displayed on your blog's front page in the order they're published, pages are better suited for content that you don't expect to update frequently, like an About, Blogging Guidelines or Contact information.

Post vs Pages

The diagram illustrates the components of a blog post. It features a central rectangular box representing the post content, with seven numbered callout boxes pointing to specific elements. The callouts are: 1. Post Title (points to the main title), 2. Date Published (points to the date), 3. Written by (points to the author name), 4. Comments (points to the comment count), 5. Post Content (points to the main body text), 6. Category (points to the category label), and 7. Tag (points to the tag label). The post content itself includes a title, a date, author, comment count, a horizontal line, a paragraph of text, a sub-paragraph, a request for comments, and a list of three topics.

5. Post Content

A lot of the learning from blogging happens as a result of commenting and interaction between commenters. Comments that challenge views, ideas and thoughts or provide alternative solutions expand our thinking.

Trouble is most readers are reluctant commenters, not because of lack of time, but because they feel uncomfortable leaving comments.

Please leave a comment to demonstrate the power of commenting by sharing your thoughts on:

1. Reasons why readers mightn't leave comments on blog posts
2. What makes a good comment?
3. What are some of your tips for encouraging readers to comment?
